DR. SUN'S BOY IN HONOLULU

"My father has been in constant touch with the Chinese revolutionary leaders, and some day he may be elected president of the Republic of China."

Sun Fo, the eldest son of Dr. Sun Yet Sen, the Chinese revolutionary leader, made the above statement yesterday after he came ashore from the steamship Korea, on which he arrived from San Francisco. He will remain in Honolulu for some time, visiting his relatives and friends.

Mr. Sun Fo, is a student at Berkeley, where he will resume his studies, after his return from the Orient. While in Honolulu, he will be guest of the editor of the Liberty News, the local organ of the revolutionary movement in China.

He said yesterday that some time ago, the revolutionary Governor of Kiangsu, at Shanghai, urged the generals in the field to send for his father. They believed then, as they do now, continued he, that the revolutionists will eventually win out in the end. He emphasized the fact that his father left the United States for China last month and it is expected that he will be in China during the latter part of this month.

Mr. Sun Fo was delighted yesterday to see the revolutionary flags waving proudly over the business houses in Chinatown. He said that the flag was first designed by Look Hau Tong, an intimate friend of his father, and one of the greatest leaders in the Chinese revolutionary movement. He predicts that the revolutionists will be successful in the end.

They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity. #### HENRY WILL HAVE TROUBLE GETTING BAIL

Harriman Henry, under indictment by the Federal Grand Jury for perjury, arrived from Los Angeles yesterday in charge of Marshal Youngworth of that city. He was out on bail here and skipped to the coast, being brought back on a bench warrant and arriving just four days before bail would be forfeited.

Henry's case comes up to be set for trial Saturday next but it is not expected that he can get bail again.

Marshal Youngworth and his wife are making the trip to the Orient on a holiday. They will be away for ninety days, a cable having been received here that the authorities had granted this extension.

CHINA CRUISE STORY EXPLODED

The story started in San Francisco and which reached here by cable, to the effect that the flagship California wired to the Japanese liner Shinyo Maru that the fleet was going out to China, has been exploded, a San Francisco paper giving the facts as follows:

"Although Captain Smith of the Japanese liner Shinyo Maru, which arrived here yesterday, kept a sharp lookout he saw nothing of the five armored cruisers of the Pacific fleet which passed beyond the Shinyo's range of vision on their way to Honolulu. Captain Smith and T. Tazashira, the Shinyo's wireless operator, says that the report published in an evening paper to the effect that they had received a wireless from the California to the effect that the fleet was 'bound to Honolulu to coal and then full speed to Shanghai' was without foundation.

"Tazashira says that he got into wireless communication with the fleet November 25 and that he exchanged positions with the warships for the next two days.

"I knew from a Honolulu newspaper," said the Japanese operator, "that the cruisers were bound for Honolulu. Their destination was never mentioned in any message that I received from them and I asked no questions. We exchanged positions during the three days we were in communication and I relayed a few messages from San Francisco addressed to officers of the cruisers."
